Bolder Options Donor Privacy Policy

Bolder Options respects your privacy. This policy explains what donor information we collect, how we use it, and the choices you have.

What we collect and how we collect it. We collect information you provide when you make a gift online, by mail, or in person; register for a fundraising event; sign up for updates; or contact us. We may also receive gift and contact details from a payment processor or giving platform you use to support Bolder Options, depending on what that service shares with us. The information we receive may include your name, mailing address, email address, phone number, employer if provided, gift amount and date, gift designation, and communication or recognition preferences.

How we use your information. We use donor information to process and acknowledge gifts, issue receipts, honor gift designations and preferences, maintain accurate records, respond to inquiries, and communicate about Bolder Options programs, events, and fundraising.

When we share information. We do not sell, rent, or trade donor information. We may share information needed by service providers working on our behalf, such as payment processors, or when disclosure is required by law. You may ask us to keep your gift anonymous, leave your name out of public recognition, or exclude your information from optional sharing with other organizations.

How to review or update your information. Email us at support@bolderoptions.org to ask what personal information we maintain about you, request corrections, update your contact or recognition preferences, or ask us to stop contacting you. You can also make a request by speaking with a Bolder Options staff member. We may verify your identity before providing or changing personal information. If we cannot provide something you request, we will explain why.

This policy is available upon request.